Re: Wisconsin Department of Justice Grant Opportunity-Treatment Alternatives and Diversion Grant (TAD)

To whom it may concern,

The Douglas County Criminal Justice Coordinating Council (CJCC) formally supports the Douglas County Department of Health and Human Services application for TAD Grant renewal for 2022.

The Council feels strongly that this grant continues to be of great benefit to our community by providing our citizens of Douglas County struggling with addiction to immediate access to community based and residential treatment, monitoring, support and aftercare services as a meaningful alternative to jail or prison. Over the past several years, this grant funding has continued to support a more effective criminal justice system and a healthier community. This Council consists of major stakeholders in our community who are willing to provide continued support of the Douglas County Treatment Court and its program design and function. The Douglas County CJCC is also committed to a sustainable and collaborative partnership with all involved entities to continue to build on a strong and successful program.

The Douglas County CJCC proudly supports Douglas County Health and Human Services renewal application for the Treatment Alternatives and Diversion Grant for 2022.

Sincerely,

Aaron Lenmark
Chair, Douglas County CJCC
