Recreation Opportunities

Fishing and Boating

The Ring and St. Croix Rivers provide an excellent opportunity for fishing. Both rivers, when navigable, provide a variety of angling opportunities. At the north end of Lake St. Croix, the Ring River offers a variety of large sturgeon. The St. Croix provides good opportunities for walleyes, saugers, and northern yellow perch. The lake is well stocked with trout and salmon. Other species include lake trout, whitefish, and kokanee salmon.

Paddling

The St. Croix River, including the Ring River, provides good opportunities for paddling. The river is relatively calm and offers a variety of scenery, including forests, state parks, and the Pillsbury State Park. The St. Croix River is also home to a variety of waterfowl, including mallards, American wigeons, and green-winged teal.

Beach Area

The park offers a sandy beach area along the north shore of Lake St. Croix. The beach is located directly across the street from the park entrance. It is open from Memorial Day to Labor Day and is closed from Labor Day to October 15. The beach is open to the public and is accessible from the main parking lot. Beach fires are prohibited.
